Redarc wins manufacturing award - again - in 2017

18-Apr-2017

Redarc was the recipient of the 2017 Excellence in Manufacturing Gold Award, complementing its success last year. Redarc now joins a select group of manufacturers that have won the same award in consecutive years.

The Australian Auto Aftermarket Excellence Awards are designed to recognise outstanding achievers in the Australian Automotive Aftermarket Industry.

The Excellence in Manufacturing Gold Award recognises organisations that invest in research, embrace innovation, predict trends and develop a competitive advantage through focussing on continual manufacturing.

AAAA executive director, Stuart Charity, said the AAAA Board of Directors congratulate all Excellence Award winners and thank them for their contribution to the auto aftermarket industry.

Redarc's managing director, Anthony Kittel, said he was thrilled Redarc has joined a special group of previous successive-year winners that includes Disc Brakes Australia, Bosch Australia, Walker Australia and SAAS Manufacturing.

"Our pillars of success are shaped by continual innovation, a passion for learning and a team based culture shaped by collaboration," Mr Kittel said.

"By using a cross-functional team approach to product development we can continually deliver high quality, innovative products to the market."

"As an advanced manufacturer, we need a highly skilled and empowered workforce and the commitment of Redarc employees to learn and embrace training is impressive.

"Without a highly skilled workforce, our manufacturing capability wouldn't be at the technological level it is," Mr Kittel concluded.

Redarc has announced it will expand its manufacturing facility and house additional state-of-the-art machinery equipment in Lonsdale, South Australia, as part of an upgrade that is scheduled for completion in 2018. The new equipment will enable Redarc to enhance its manufacturing capabilities and work closely with companies in the automotive aftermarket industry.
