Cold Logic expands into Defence

Australia's most awarded industrial refrigeration company Cold Logic has taken the step to increase their involvement in the Defence Industry by launching a dedicated division. By appointing Dr Michael Riese as the new lead resource in the sector, Cold Logic is demonstrating their commitment to the company's exciting new direction. Cold Logic is a trusted supplier with over 30 years of proven company history in the refrigeration and controlled environment business for a diverse range of clients. They provide engineering design, project installation, service and emergency breakdown responses 24/7 nationally to their clients. Their recent success with ASC has inspired Cold Logic to set a new business goal – become the leader for purpose-built heat removal solutions for the Australian Defence Force equipment.

Dr Michael Riese.
