

3D metal printers now open

The most advanced commercially available metal 3D printing facility in Australia has now opened at Edinburgh North.

The Additive Manufacturing Applied Research Network (AMARN) is an exciting new facility offering local businesses access to three high performing 3D printers that can recreate complex metal parts in aluminium, stainless steel and other metals.

Tours of the metal 3D printing facility will be held in May for SA based manufacturers.

To register your interest or for more information, please contact Helen Bethell ➤