

Move five years in the planning

GLOBAL: Thomas Foods International chief executive Darren Thomas.

THOMAS Foods International (TFI) chief executive Darren Thomas said planning for a move to a larger head office began almost five years ago.

“Our team has expanded significantly over the years and we had outgrown the former office space,” Mr Thomas said.

“This new head office provides our staff with a modern and invigorating work environment that best reflects the global operation we’ve become.

“We also regularly host visiting international business leaders and customers so we want all our facilities to be world class.”

Thomas Foods International officially moved into its head office operations from 170 Fullarton Rd yesterday, to the new building a few doors further north at 162 Fullarton Rd, Rose Park. TFI will occupy two floors of the brand new building with SA builder Medallion Homes also due to move in shortly.
