SOME kids may dream of being actors, or fire fighters, or AFL stars — a young Greg Miller only ever wanted to be a dentist.

Now Dr Miller has been named SA's best dentist in an advertiser.com.au poll.

Dr Miller said his dream of becoming a dentist started at a young age.

"When I was 11, my mother had a terrible tooth ache and I could see how much she was physically suffering from it," Dr Miller, 41, said. "I saw the dentist who worked on her, working with all these amazing tools. But, more than that, I saw my mother went from being in excruciating pain to being relieved and happy.

"Ever since that day, being a dentist was all I ever wanted to do."

Dr Miller, who has worked at North Adelaide Dental Care for the past 13 years, was shocked and humbled to earn the No. 1 spot.

"I suspect a lot of people who voted for me were really voting for the team here," he said.
